Caring for someone who has symptoms of COVID-19

- 1. Help the person who is sick follow their doctor's instructions for care and medication. Make sure they drink plenty of water and get plenty of rest. Help them with grocery shopping, filling prescriptions, and getting other items they may need. Consider delivery, or ask a trusted neighbor to help.
- 2. Limit contact between the sick person and others in the household. Avoid having visitors.
- 3. Help the sick person stay in their own room if possible. Otherwise, mark 6 feet around their space and make sure no one comes within that space. Eat in separate rooms or at different times.
- 4. Wear a mask when in the same room as the person who is sick. If your mask gets dirty, replace it immediately.
- 5. Wash your hands often and immediately after any contact with the person who is sick or after touching potentially contaminated surfaces. Wash for 20 seconds with soap and water or use hand sanitizer with at least 60% ethanol or 70% isopropyl alcohol content.
- 6. Clean and disinfect commonly touched surfaces in your home daily. Wear a mask and gloves when you clean, and wash your hands after. To limit contact with the sick person, have them clean and disinfect their area if they can.
- 7. Have designated waste bags for the sick person's used items and the caregiver's used masks and gloves. Keep them in a safe place away from people.

Basic Summer Heat Safety Tips

- ◆ During the hottest hours of the day, stay inside. If possible stay inside an air-conditioned building.
- ◆ The hottest hours of the day are typically from mid morning to mid afternoon.
- ◆ Dress lightly, and when sleeping, use light-weight, breathable covers.
- ◆ Drink plenty of water and other fluids.
- ◆ When temperatures climb above 90 degrees, it's important to drink at least a gallon of liquid per day, preferably water.

Those who are overweight and in humid conditions needing even more. Avoid drinking beverages that are carbonated or contain caffeine when temperatures are high, as they can lead to dehydration.

- ◆ Never ever leave a person or a pet in the car in hot conditions while you run to do a quick errand.
- ◆ Properly supervise vulnerable individuals during outdoor activities, being sure to monitor them closely and frequently.
- ◆ Seek medical care right away if you become nauseous, start vomiting or experience cramps

Thank you CSC Workers.

For all of your hard work and support during this difficult time. Thank you for being courageous superheroes on the front lines.
