Our Mission is to provide services of the highest quality for people with cognitive and developmental disabilities and related disorders including autism that optimize each individual's independence and capabilities, ensure self-determination and rights and, with partnerships in the community, enhances their opportunities to live healthy, safe and valued lives.

Our Vision is to provide programs and services to individuals with developmental disabilities and related disorders including autism to live and work in the community and exercise their rights, choice and freedom and to live independent of institutional life through integrated efforts of change agents who are passionate about changing lives of people with disabilities throughout the world.

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Brittany Wooding has been highly recommended for the employee of the month for May 2021. She is giving special care and support to individuals. Individuals enjoy spending time with her and feel calm when she is on duty. She understands them very well and works around their needs. Keep up the good work!

Cosmas Mutua has been a phenomenal part of the Children's Program. He is kind, caring and patient. A great virtual school teacher. Very knowledgeable about the children when they go to appointments as well as very organized. It has been a great pleasure working with Cosmas in our Children's Program!

PERSONAL SUPPORT STAFF REQUIRED Center for Social Change and the family of a child is looking for a highly-skilled, motivated, and compassionate staff to work with an 11 year old child who has multiple disabilities.

Training required: All DDA mandated training, including CPR, First Aid, and Mandt.

CAREGIVER DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Home Management and Care Planning: It can be tricky to know just how much of a commitment caregiving can place on others. One useful way to ensure proper coverage for all tasks is to create a care plan to manage the home and the health responsibilities. This plan should be created with the input of the medical team, family members, and all those providing services.

Prescription Medication Management: Since medications do fall under the umbrella of health care, it can be tempting to have the same person handle everything. The caregiver should also regularly check on medication supply; since some pain prescriptions are a target for theft, controlled substances should be locked up and counted on a daily basis.

Assisting with Meals and Nutrition: It's not enough to ask a caregiver to make meals. In fact, since many older adults lose their appetites and take in fewer calories as they age, the food they eat must be of the best nutrition possible.

Help with Personal Hygiene and Care: Getting assistance with bathing, using the toilet, cleaning up after being sick, or washing and combing their hair can be a necessary step for aging in place. Since it's a delicate topic, be sure that the caregiver is kind natured and patient.

Help and Mobility: Whether it's learning to properly move someone from the wheelchair to toilet or noticing the signs of someone at risk for a fall, the skills a caregiver needs to ensure safe movement both inside and outside the home are vital. Proper "transfer" methods (those used to transition a loved one from one position to another) are needed to avoid injury to both the caregiver and the senior loved one.

Home Maintenance and Housekeeping: A good caregiver should have basic cleaning skills. They should have no problem helping out with or doing the dishes. Knowing how a toilet plunger works and feeling comfortable changing a lightbulb are just two examples of how a caregiver can also help.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW?

- If you are fully vaccinated, you can resume activities that you did before the pandemic.
 - Fully vaccinated people can resume activities without wearing a mask or physically distancing, except where required by federal, state, local, tribal or territorial laws, rules, and regulations, including local business and workplace guidance.
 - If you haven't been vaccinated yet, find a vaccine.
