7 STEP CHECKLIST FOR PREPARING YOUR CAR FOR WINTER

1. STANDARD MAINTENANCE INSPECTION

It is important to make sure that your car maintenance is up-to-date overall. This will ensure that your brakes, belts and hoses, engine, exhaust system, fluids and filters are in good working order and ready to handle the cold.

2. CHECK YOUR CAR BATTERY

In extremely cold temperatures, your car requires more current from the battery to start the engine. In order to avoid a dead car battery on a cold morning, have your local auto repair facility run a battery load test to see if your battery is healthy.

3. REPLACE YOUR WINDSHIELD WIPERS & FILL YOUR WIPER FLUID

Many drivers discover their windshield wiper blades need replacing and they are out of windshield wiper fluid in our first major snowstorm when they cannot see out their windshield. Having enough wiper fluid is crucial to keeping your windshield free of ice, snow, salt, and mud. Make sure you use freeze-resistant wiper fluid.

4. HEATER AND DEFROSTER

The heater and defroster must be in good working condition for passenger comfort and driver visibility. Your air conditioner needs to be functional as well to ensure proper defrost operation. If your windows are fogging up, make sure the fresh air button is selected.

5. INSPECT (AND MAYBE REPLACE) YOUR TIRES

It is highly recommended to examine your tires for remaining tread life, uneven wear, and cupping. You should check the sidewalls for cuts and nicks.

6. CHECK YOUR TIRE PRESSURE

It is important to check that your tires are properly inflated for winter conditions. Cold weather causes air pressure in your tires to drop.

7. CHANGE YOUR OIL

Cold weather tends to thicken oil and reduce its ability to circulate through the engine, so make sure that you have fresh oil to keep your car running smoothly.
