MARCH EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Loveth Aliemeke is a dedicated and hard-working member of our adult residential homes team. She ensures that all documentation is meticulously maintained and kept up-to-date, reflecting her commitment to high standards and organization. Beyond her administrative excellence, Loveth goes above and beyond in assisting individuals with their daily activities and personal goals. Her genuine care for residents is clear in the way she takes the time to learn their unique stories, preferences, and needs.

Mame Mbaye has shown exemplary dedication in our day program, setting a high standard for colleagues through his professionalism and compassion. His positive impact on participants and staff reflects the core values of our organization. The genuine regard and compassion he extends toward every individual in the program are deeply appreciated and do not go unnoticed. We are grateful for his genuine respect and commitment to creating an inclusive, supportive environment.

Oluwatoyin Ojo has been named Employee of the Month in recognition of her unwavering dedication to our children's program. Oluwatoyin has become an invaluable member of our team and a bright light in the lives of our children. Her professional reliability is matched only by her heartfelt commitment to creating joyful, meaningful experiences for the children in her care.

CELEBRATE GLOBAL RECYCLING DAY – MARCH 18TH!

Did you know March 18th is Global Recycling Day? It’s the perfect time to recognize the impact each of us can have by making simple, sustainable choices at work and at home.

Why It Matters

Recycling is more than just sorting waste – it’s about protecting our planet, conserving precious resources, and reducing pollution. When we recycle, we help fight climate change and ensure a healthier world for generations to come.

How You Can Get Involved

- Clean & Sort: Make sure your recyclables are clean and placed in the correct bins around the office.
- Reduce Single-Use Items: Bring your own mug or water bottle to cut down on disposable plastics.
- Spread the Word: Encourage your coworkers to recycle and share tips for making it easier.
- Go Paperless: Digitize documents and opt for electronic communication to reduce paper waste.
- Repurpose and Reuse: Before tossing something, think about how it could be reused—old jars make great desk organizers!
- Buy Recycled: Choose office supplies made from recycled materials whenever possible.
- Turn Off, Unplug: Save energy by turning off lights and unplugging electronics when not in use.

Looking Ahead

As we observe Global Recycling Day, let us reaffirm our commitment to responsible resource management. By embracing mindful habits and supporting organizational sustainability initiatives, we can collectively make a meaningful impact on our environment.

Thank you for being a part of our ongoing efforts to create a greener, more sustainable workplace.

Together, we can make every day a recycling day.
